Principal Investigator(s): Logan Lebanoff, Ph.D. student

Co-Investigators or Sub-Investigator(s): Pamela Wisniewski, Assistant Professor

Faculty Supervisor: Pamela Wisniewski, Assistant Professor

Investigational Site(s): University of Central Florida, Department of Computer Science

Why am I being invited to take part in a research study?

We invite you to take part in this research study because you are either (1) a college student aged 18-21 or (2) a parent.

You must be 18 years of age or older to participate in this study.

What should I know about a research study?

- Someone will explain this research study to you.
- Whether or not you take part is up to you.
- You can choose not to take part.
- You can agree to take part and later change your mind.
- Your decision will not be held against you.
- You can ask all the questions you want before you decide.

Who can I talk to?

If you have questions, concerns, or complaints, or think the research has hurt you, talk to the research team at loganlebanoff@knights.ucf.edu.

This research has been reviewed and approved by an Institutional Review Board (“IRB”). You may talk to them at 407-823-2901 or irb@ucf.edu if:

- Your questions, concerns, or complaints are not being answered by the research team.
- You cannot reach the research team.
- You want to talk to someone besides the research team.
- You have questions about your rights as a research subject.
- You want to get information or provide input about this research.

Why is this research being done?

Parental control apps for teens currently have two issues: they create an information overload and invade the teen privacy. The results of this research can help improve the efficiency with which parents monitor their teens while also preserving the privacy of teens.

How long will the research last?

We expect that you will be in this research study for about an hour until you complete the survey.

How many people will be studied?

We expect about 20 people will be in this research study.

What happens if I say yes, I want to be in this research?

- You will be asked to read several text messaging conversations, along with corresponding summaries. You will be asked several questions based on the conversations.
- You will be given 1 week to complete the survey.

What happens if I do not want to be in this research?

Participation in research is completely voluntary. You can decide to participate or not to participate.

Your participation in this study is voluntary. You are free to withdraw your consent and discontinue participation in this study at any time without prejudice or penalty. Your decision to participate or not participate in this study will in no way affect your continued enrollment, grades, employment or your relationship with the individuals who may have an interest in this study.

What happens if I say yes, but I change my mind later?

You can leave the research at any time it will not be held against you.

Is there any way being in this study could be bad for me?

There is minimal risk from taking the survey. You may become fatigued or bored, and contents of the survey contain a small amount of bad language.

What happens to the information collected for the research?

Efforts will be made to limit the use and disclosure of your personal information, including research study records, to people who have a need to review this information. We cannot promise complete secrecy. Organizations that may inspect and copy your information include the IRB and other representatives of this organization.

Your survey results will be stored on the Principal Investigator's computer and will be accessible to the Principal Investigator and Co-Investigators. Email addresses and survey responses will not be shared outside the research team. Email addresses will be not be associated with survey responses.

What else do I need to know?

We will collect aggregate results (not individual results) based on survey responses from all participants. You will be informed of the aggregate results of the study within 6 months of you signing this document. We will send you an email with these results.
